

NORTHBROOK VOICES

An Oral History Project of the Northbrook Historical Society & the Northbrook Public Library

Northbrook Public Library, Reference Department, 1201 Cedar Lane, Northbrook, IL 60062

September 2012

Dear Participant:

Thank you for offering to participate in Northbrook Voices, an oral history project co-sponsored by the Northbrook Historical Society and the Northbrook Public Library. Northbrook Voices was launched in 2011 to record oral histories of community residents. We are interested in hearing about your experiences of living in Northbrook, your community involvement, and what Northbrook has meant in your life. Think of this as a friendly conversation between you and future generations who will be enriched by your story.

Your interview will be preserved in the permanent collections of the Northbrook Historical Society and the Northbrook Public Library, and may be used for scholarly and educational purposes, including exhibition, publication, presentation on the World Wide Web, and for promotion of Northbrook Public Library and Northbrook Historical Society activities.

To prepare for your recording session, we will contact you to discuss the enclosed questionnaire. Your answers will help us arrange our questions for the interview in a way that will help you tell your unique story of living in Northbrook.

Thank you for helping preserve Northbrook Voices for the enjoyment, education and enrichment of future generations.

Sincerely,

The Northbrook Historical Society and the Northbrook Public Library
